THE TRADE TOKENS OF SASKATCHEWAN AND THEIR HISTORY

BY CECIL C. TANNAHILL, F.C.N.R.S.

THE TRADE TOKENS OF SASKATCHEWAN AND THEIR HISTORY

By no stretch of the imagination can this be considered a complete listing of the tokens that were issued and used in Saskatchewan.

I have tried to obtain in this listing as many as possible, but in a new field such as this, there are usually errors and still many unknown tokens. During my search the past number of years, I have heard of other tokens but as no definite information could be obtained or the token seen, they have not been included in this listing.

My only hope is that it will assist the token collector in some small way until that time when a complete listing can be made of the tokens of Saskatchewan. In many cases when searching out the history of these tokens, where the owner or issuer could not be contacted, I had to rely on the memory of the old-timers in the district for the necessary information. In a great many cases their stories were conflicting, so possibly in some instances, the dates and facts are not quite correct but should be close enough to the truth to be acceptable.

Many pieces of wooden money were also issued in Saskatchewan but no effort was made to include these pieces in this listing as they have been adequately covered in the listings of Larry Gingras and E. Di Bella.

Would be most pleased to hear from anyone who can supply further information on any token in this listing or on any token that is not included herein.

A listing, such as this, has been made possible only by the combined effort of the Fellows of the Canadian Numismatic Research Society, who have so generously contributed listings of tokens in their collections. Grateful acknowledgement is also made to the following who have helped with tokens and information, - Martin Watts, Ann Saville, Jim Hardie, Douglas McLean, Mac Provich, Andrew Dziadyk and Hans Zoell.

All tokens are numbered with a suffix 'S' for Saskatchewan. The first number will designate the town from the listing on a previous page, ie. - S20 would show that it was Bethune.

The second will be a letter; 'A' will be the first in the series of tokens issued in that town: 'B' will be the second in the series, etc.

The third set of numbers will show the denomination or what the token is worth -: 1000 = $10.00

500 = $ 5.00

200 = $ 2.00

100 = $ 1.00

50 = 50¢

25 = 25¢

10 = 10¢

5 = 5¢

2 = 2½¢

1 = 1¢

M = milk; with MP = pint of milk.

MQ = quart of milk

B = bread, with number of loaves to follow as B1, B2, B½ etc.

S = good for one shave.

W = good for a pail of water.

D = good for a drink at the bar.

K = other miscellaneous.

Following the above, a token that numbers S38A-25 would show that this is the first series of tokens issued in Bulyea and the denomination is 25¢.

Abbreviations and their meanings -:

Alum. or AL. = Aluminum; Rect. or R. = Rectangular; Rd. = Round;

Oct. = Octagonal; Ni. = Nickel; PL. = Plastic; mm. = Millimeters;

Scall. = round with scalloped edge; Ov. = Oval; Sq. = Square.

All sizes of tokens are given in millimeters as it was decided at the meeting of the Canadian Numismatic Research Society, that was held at the Canadian Numismatic Association Convention in Vancouver, that all dimensions should be in the decimal system. It was felt that this would be more universal and be less complicated to maintain an accurate sizing than the inch and it's fractions.

RARITY SCALE.

1. - still in use.
2. - not in use but issuer retained the tokens.
3. - some found but in limited supply.
4. - few found around place of origin.
5. - odd token found in collections.
6. - only one known at present.

I must admit that it is most difficult to rate the rarity of these tokens with 100% accuracy as this is the first listing of the tokens of Saskatchewan. However, this is based on the information that I have been able to dig up in the past eight years from the locale of the tokens and correspondence with other collectors. Further searching may reveal small accumulations of some of these tokens but in most cases this is highly improbable. If you do have a token that is not listed here, it would not necessarily mean that this token would be R6, because it is quite possible it is just one of the many tokens that have not been brought to my attention.

SASKATCHEWAN

Many moons ago, a bronzed young Cree gazed with wonder upon a mighty and turbulent river, and turning to his companion said, "Kis-is-ska-tche-wan"- their term for 'fast-flowing'. Although the country through which this stream runs has experienced many changes the name remained and now the river and the adjacent regions are called Saskatchewan - a word that continues to echo, in the soft Indian tongue, the movement of eddying waters over the prairies of Western Canada.

The Indian tribes of the Chipewyans, the Blackfeet and the Cree ruled the woods and the parkland areas of this territory. On the prairie roamed the tribe of the Assiniboine. Blessed with a game heavy land, unchallenged in his possession of this portion of the continent, the Indian reigned supreme. This began to end in 1670 when, in England, King Charles II granted a charter to the Hudson's Bay Company. This gave the company sole trading rights and land holding powers in the vast unexplored North-West. In 1690, Henry Kelsey, a veteran employee of the Hudson's Bay Company, became the first man to set foot in this territory that proved rich in fur bearing animals.

Innumerable outposts were built along the waterways of the Churchill and Saskatchewan Rivers and their tributaries. This period gave birth to the Metis nation, half caste sons and daughters of the traders and their Indian mates. Raised around the forts, combining the resourcefulness of the white and the cunninging of the red, they became the best hunters and guides in the territories.

For nearly a century the Hudson's Bay Company ruled this territory and in 1870 surrendered it's control to the Canadian Government in exchange for a sum of cash and a large grant of land. People were needed to settle this bountiful but empty land, and in 1872 the Canadian Government offered free homesteads to settlers. Pioneers from all over the world came to this new land to settle. As more settlers continued to come to this new promised land, it was found there was a need for a law enforcing agency, so in 1875 the North West Mounted Police arrived.

The 1880's saw the first transcontinental railway span this new land and along it's path sprang up many settlements. From these early communities originated Saskatchewan's first trade tokens, in the absence of Hudson's Bay Company pieces such as the 'Made Beaver Tokens' which might otherwise have served the outposts there. First at Moosomin, Moose Jaw and Maple Creek, private tokens appeared to meet the commercial needs of our early settlers.

By 1882 the community picturesquely called 'Pile-o'-bones' (after more durable remains of the thousands of bison slaughtered in the vicinity) had been named Regina, in honor of Queen Victoria. As the Canadian North-West Came under a Lieutenant-Governor after 1872, the new centre presented itself as the logical capital for this particular Territory, then known as Assiniboia; consequently, in 1883, the Government moved from Battleford to Regina.

The dominance of ever-growing numbers of white settlers provoked both the Metis and Indians to armed rebellion in 1885, under the leadership of Louis Riel. The fires of their unrest brought tidings of these rich lands far afield, so that soon after the Rebellion, further settlers streamed in - first along the railway line, but later Spreading out on both sides. As we have indicated, it was from these railway centres that the region's first trade tokens were issued. Some of the tokens were intended to satisfy the need for small change in the community, others originated with merchants who feared that those small settlements just starting along the trail might take away much of their business; to avoid such an outcome, they issued tokens and paid any balance due the customer in these, knowing that he would have to return if he wished full value for his tokens.

Saskatchewan entered Confederation in 1905 and the new province was comprised of a portion of the North West Territories and the two administrative district, Saskatchewan and Assiniboia. As no attempt was made to provide an official provincial currency, the tokens that were issued by the many merchants served as the only medium of exchange in numerous areas.

Mr. Ens died in 1947 and to settle the estate the store was sold and at this time all tokens on hand were destroyed.

L O A F

S18B-B1-Uniface token. Brass R5

Around 1914 the Battleford Mental Hospital issued crude tokens for use in their bakery. These tokens were clipped or chiseled out of a sheet of brass. They were mostly in a rectangular shape and apparently no pattern was used as the tokens vary in size from 25mm x 12mm to 38mm x 22mm. They were also stamped by hand with individual letters and on one side only. There is also a round variety, approximately 25mm in diameter, which was also hand made and stamped.

In the early 1920's more tokens were issued and those were also made at the hospital. However, this time it appears that a pattern was used and the tokens were cut by machine as they are consistent in size. They were hand stamped and on one side only and on some the bar in the A (LOAF) is missing. Later more tokens were needed but this time they were ordered from a manufacturer. All tokens were discontinued in 1925 and no record has been found as to what happened to the remaining tokens

Tokens were issued by Mr. Speers, a farmer who supplied a large portion of the town with milk, around 1931 and were only used three years. His daughter thought that a token 'good for 1 pint milk' was also used but have found no specimens to substantiate this.

Seth and Tom Witton arrived in the Bethune district in 1907 and took out a homestead each. In June of 1908 Seth purchased the Donaldson Grocery. On Hallowe'en, 1912, Seth Witton fired a shotgun at some pranksters, one of whom had to have numerous pellets removed from his skin. As a result of this incident, very few of the settlers in the district would deal at store so in the spring of 1913 he sold out to G.R. Winterstein. Shortly after he gave up his homestead and returned to the United States.

J. C. Nickel opened this business in 1921. Tokens were issued in 1922 because merchants of Wymark, a town 10 miles away, were using tokens. Even after obtaining the tokens, they were used very little as Mr. Nickel had an aversion to their use. Issue 100 of each denomination. At his death in 1948, all tokens in the store were gathered up by his brother and buried. No amount of persuasion on my part could induce this brother to reveal the burial place of these tokens.

Mr. Whittaker started a general store in Briercress shortly after the railway went through in 1912. In 1916 due to shortage of change and as it was also a convenience in bookkeeping, tokens were issued. In 1923 there was some controversy about the use of round tokens that were the same size as coins of the realm. So to avoid any trouble, the round tokens were taken out of circulation and replaced with the octagon set. These tokens were used until 1942. The bread token was issued in 1932 as a convenience in making change and were used till 1939. When the business was sold, Mr. Whittaker gathered up all the tokens and kept them.

In 1919 the need arose for more tokens and to be somewhat different had the new tokens made in rectangular shape. However, on receiving the new issue, he found that it created a problem to distinguish the different denominations in the dimly lit store. The rectangular tokens were rejected and a new lot was ordered.

Art Battel came to Bruno in 1922 and started a general store. As tokens were quite familar to the residents of the district, he felt that it was necessary to issue tokens, which he did in 1924. These tokens were used until 1956 when the store was sold to Weiman Bros. All tokens on hand were given to a relative but have been unable to confirm this rumor.

On selling his business in Girvin in 1924, Sylvester Moulton purchased a general store in Delisle. Having used tokens to good advantage in Girvin, he decided to issue tokens for use in his new store. The new tokens were issued in the smaller denominations only as he had a number of the larger denominations of the Girvin tokens and was going to counterstamp them with D. S. to designate the Delisle store. However, as no counterstamped tokens have been found and the Delisle tokens are strictly uncirculated, it is presumed that S. Moulton changed his mind about using the new tokens. None of the old-timers in the district could remember Mr. Moulton using any kind of token.

They were also issued in denominations of $1.00, 50¢, 25¢ and 5¢ but to date have not seen any one of these to include them in this listing. In September, 1913, J. Mohl sold his share to Karl Becker and within the year he in turn sold the business to Mr. Gelsinger of Regina, who, I am told, declared bankruptcy within a few months. At this time the building was vacated and in 1923 fire destroyed it completely. No record as to what happened to the tokens but Mr. Mohl believes that the tokens were left in the building.

However, due to a poor grade of coal and only a small vein, the railway bypassed this location and was built about 2 miles south of the mine. The token was issued in an effort to stimulate trade and maintain the business they had, but to no avail and in 1928 the store was closed. No record as to what happened to the tokens.

John Friesen arrived from the Old Country in 1888 and homesteaded at Gretne, Manitoba, and in 1890 started a general store in that community. As numerous relatives had moved farther west, mainly around Hague, J. Friesen sold his store in 1911 and moved to Hague where he purchased a small store. Issued tokens in 1912, issue 100 of each denomination(note the 1890 on the token is to show when he started in business). In 1919, on purchasing the business of his main opposition, the Kehler Store, found that more of the 5¢ and 10¢ tokens were needed so tokens of these denominations were ordered.

reason Mr. Schellenberg Sr. ordered that the 1 in the $1.00 be placed on backward. These tokens were used until 1925 when the store was sold to J. A. Friesen & Sons.

On selling the store to Friesen's, Schellenberg opened the first (so they claim) groceteria in Canada. The groceteria idea proved quite popular so in 1927 they sold this store to Friesen's and moved to Saskatoon where they started up the O. K. Economy, wholesale and retail stores. When they started the groceteria in Hague they felt that tokens were needed so tokens were ordered but before they were received, they had decided to sell their business in Hague so the token order was cancelled. Mr. Schellenberg claims that they never did receive the tokens, so it is presumed that the tokens in existence were from the manufacturer only. Their own Schellenberg tokens were destroyed when they moved from Hague but a few did show up in the tokens used by J. A. Friesen.

Hanley being a new site on the C.N.R had all the requisites of growing to a large town, so in 1909 a group of men in the community decided to form a co-operative business. In June 1910, the Consumers Supply Company opened for business with MacBeth Malcolm as president. Right from the start this venture ran into difficulties and when the store was burnt down in January 1912, many accusations were made but nothing could be proved and no effort was made to start up the business again. Very little has been learned about the tokens but the business was only operating a short time and several tokens have been found on the site of the store, badly damaged from the effects of a fire, so it is assumed that most, if not all, of the tokens were still in the store.

The tokens were gathered up and put away and shortly before I contacted him he had thrown them in the garbage and they had been carted away. Had just saved a few for his own use.

In 1915 the Western Canada Supply Company was formed by a partnership of four farmers, with George Buhler as manager. Tokens were issued in 1920 with an issue of 100 each of the aluminum tokens and 50 each of the brass. There was considerable dissension between the partners as to how the business should be managed, as a result the business dropped off so much that in 1925 the Company was in dire straits and tried to sell the business. Mr. B. J. Miller, who was in business across the street, made them an offer which they finally accepted. Mr. Miller purchased the building, stock and other assets but would assume none of the liabilities. There were many of the tokens still in the possession of the customers so Mr. Miller elected to still use the tokens until they could all be withdrawn from circulation. At this time he counterstamped all tokens in the store with M I L L E R on the obverse of the token. Any token that was brought in for redemption after this date was counterstamped on the reverse with M I L L E R, and these were charged to the amount still owing the former company. A time limit had been decided upon as to when the tokens were to be withdrawn as Mr. Miller did not want to use tokens for his own use, at this time all tokens must be accounted for and those missing were charged against the former company. So a complete set of this series would be 21 tokens, to have the counterstamped varieties and the rarity of the counterstamped tokens would be similar to the regular issue except the $5.00 counterstamped on the reverse, this would be R6. Please note that on all the 25¢ tokens, the N in Western is missing.

The demand for their product was good and in 1915 they expanded and added a general store. Tokens were issued in limited quantity in 1916. In 1920, for no apparent reason, the business was sold to Mr. Loepky and the brothers departed to Texas. No record as to what happened to the remaining tokens.

C. Bruser opened up a general store in 1909 and tokens were issued in 1910 as numerous furs were brought in for trade. In 1918 due to a shortage of the 1¢ token, another lot was ordered and these differ slightly from the first issue. There is no period after the C in C. Bruser and no comma after Humboldt. In 1923 C. Bruser took his sons into the business so a new company was formed, Bruser's Limited. It was felt that the existing token should no longer be used so late in 1923 new tokens were placed in circulation. At this time the old tokens were withdrawn and their value is still kept on their books.

He was charging 5¢ per game and would give the winner one of the tokens which could be used at the tables or in the confectionery. The tokens did not bring the desired result and after only two months of use they were withdrawn. The original token was not holed but later in the confectionery the token was used for a quart of milk and at this time a small hole was drilled in the centre so that the tokens could be hung on a wire. These two tokens are listed in Breton's catalogue of 1894 with the following information, " The first token (B930), on this there are two mistakes, the initials of the issuer should be J.H.F. instead of I.H.F. and the letters N.W.S. for North West Settlement should be N.W.T. for North West Territory. These checks were used for a time in the hotel, the balance remaining, 75, were purchased by Mr. F. R. E. Campeau of Ottawa. The second token (B931), J. H. Fleming used these checks, which have his own initials and those of the territory correct, much more than the former ones. Consequently there were only twenty remaining when the lot was sold to Mr. Campeau of Ottawa". Matt Fleming, son of J. H. Fleming, states that to the best of his knowledge these tokens were never used in the hotel at all. None of the old-timers in the area, and there were a number that were interviewed regarding this, could remember the tokens being used. It is quite possible that these tokens were never actually used and this may account for the condition of the existing tokens, as all that I have seen or received reports on, are uncirculated or extremely fine condition. The Hotel was built in the 1880's and the directory lists it as being sold in 1904 to Fred Downer.

During this period tokens were issued, reported as square aluminum tokens but have not seen any of these to substantiate this story. The business was taken over again by S. Ingram in 1929 and at this time the larger token was issued. In 1931 the smaller token was issued due to a shortage of the existing tokens. These tokens were used until October 19th, 1944 when the last delivery was made and the business went on a cash and carry basis. The dairy continued until 1962 when most of the dairy herd was sold.

Richard Bogue started a store in the thriving town of Moose Jaw in 1883 and in several years was a wholesale and retail grocer, dealer in hardware, stoves, tinwares, paints and oils. If it was obtainable, Bogue's had it. Due to the large amount of business conducted and the scarcity of change in the community, Bogue's issued tokens in 1894. These tokens were widely accepted and circulated as freely as coinage of the realm. Bogue's Money, as it was called, was used till around 1914 when the several banks could supply the demands for coinage. The tokens were withdrawn and apparently destroyed as there are very few of these around and according to all reports the tokens were at one time in abundance. The business continued until 1924 when it ceased operations and later the building was sold to another merchant.

PUNNICHY.

Planchot's Place / Punnichy, Sask.
 S197A-5 -Good for 5¢ in trade. Alum. Oct. 23mm R5
 F. G. Planchot was one of the early pioneers in the district and started the general store, and being an acute business man, his business prospered so that in the late 1920's he owned a grocery store, poolroom, confectionery, bowling alley, dance hall and theater. Punnichy was located near an Indian Reserve and during the depression of the 1930's, the Indians, like every one else, were short of money. But they did have access to large tracts of poplar which they cut down to make pickets for fences. Some of the merchants of Punnichy bought these pickets from the Indians for 3¢ each, but Mr. Planchot had these tokens made and would give the Indians a token for each picket or if he preferred, 3¢ as the other merchants did. He obtained the majority of the business as the Indians preferred the tokens, as they had to spend the money for groceries or pleasure and most of these could be obtained from Planchot's. Had 1000 of these tokens made and used them until 1937 when he discontinued their use and all tokens were then withdrawn from circulation. Mr. Planchot states that at this time he destroyed all the tokens in his possession and did not even keep one for himself. Later several were turned in at the store and it appears that these are the only ones in existence.

Ed and John McCarthy, owners of a hotel, opened a supply house in 1907, selling both retail and wholesale. They expanded quite rapidly and in 1910 the company was rumored to be in serious financial trouble. Some feel that the fire of January 11th, 1911, was a very convenient fire but this is only speculation, however, no effort was made to rebuild or start anew. According to an employee of the firm, the tokens were used in the grocery department only and were issued only a short time before the fire. A number of tokens escaped the fire by being in the safe, but apparently they were destroyed afterwards.

G. F. Blaxall was in the oil delivering business when the depression hit Regina. At this time the Regina Relief Department issued vouchers to recipients of relief, for heating and cooking, 'good for 8 gallons'. On delivering coal oil to these customers, the vouchers were collected and tokens were given for the amount not taken. The first token was issued in 1931 and paper tickets, 'good for two gallons' were also used. In 1935 more tokens were needed so the second token was ordered and placed in use. These tokens were scarcely used as the demand for coal oil slackened.

Robert Fea built the pool hall in 1910 and issued tokens shortly afterwards. In 1914 the building burnt down and instead of rebuilding, Mr. Fea moved to Salcopts. The several tokens viewed, appear to have been damaged by fire so it is quite possible all tokens were in the fire and several escaped complete destruction.

Mr. Jacques started this bakery in 1921 but stayed in business less than one year due to financial difficulties. It would be natural to assume that a token 'good for 1 loaf' would be issued as well but have been unable to substantiate this.

Ralph Sugarman purchased the Dominion Billiards in 1926 and then changed the name to United Billiards as the United Cigar Store and United Barber Shop were in the same building. Tokens were issued in 1930 and were used until around 1938. At this time most of the tokens had disappeared so did not wish to order more. For every game of pool, worth 15¢, the player was given the token which could be used at the counter or at the tables. On talking to Mr. Sugarman, he thinks that he also issued tokens in the 5¢ and 10¢ denominations but did not have a token to substantiate this.

Later a railway came through just a few miles north of Scott and the town of Wilkie was taking the bulk of the trade. Singer issued tokens in 1912 in an effort to keep his customers coming back but the effort proved futile and the tokens were discontinued shortly afterwards.

Fred Branstead, being an owner of a pool room and confectionery, purchased a number of vending machines and games in 1915 from a manufacturer in the U.S.A. On receiving these machines, he found that the machines required a large coin, as the U.S. 5¢ piece, to operate and, as there was no similar coin at that time in Canada (the silver 5¢ piece was much too small) had to order a token. He obtained the above token and continued it's use until 1925 when the large Canadian 5¢ piece was in sufficient supply.

The Stevenson Brothers built a department store in 1913 and the building burnt down in 1918. The brothers rebuilt their store on a different location shortly after the fire, with the new store being managed by William Stevenson. In 1929 William died and Brother Hugh took over. Tokens were issued in 1930, to facilitate the handling of relief orders. On November 16th, 1931 the premises burnt down and this time no effort was made to rebuild. It is assumed that all tokens on hand were destroyed in the fire.

The Rollefson Brothers opened an implement and hardware business in Hanley in 1908. In 1912 they sold their business there and moved to Swift Current, where they again went into the implement business. As there is no location named on the tokens, they could have been used in Hanley, but none of the old-timers in that area could remember the tokens, whereas they are remembered in Swift current and it is from this district that a few of the tokens were found. The business was discontinued in 1925 and no record as to what happened to the tokens on hand.

Neil McKinnon, a general merchant who had started in business in 1883 in Ontario, came to Weyburn in 1901 and in 1902 built a modest one storey building for his general store. In 1905 it was found necessary to enlarge the building but as the business continued to expand found that in 1912 the building was too small for his needs. At this time a three storey building was built, costing $100,000.00, being equipped with freight and passenger elevators, something unheard of in this part of the country at this time. When stocked and ready for opening day, it was known as the finest department store west of Winnipeg. The token was issued in 1923, the 40th anniversary of being in business, picture of the actual store is on the token. It is reported that these tokens were widely distributed but when they were returned to the store, they were destroyed. The business was sold in 1932.

Four farmers in the district formed a partnership in 1908 for the purpose of starting a general store. They had grandiose plans for this new company and for several years this business flourished, with Charles Thorson as President, but in 1916 dissension arose among the partners which could not be amicably settled. As a result the partnership was dissolved and the business just abandoned. Apparently tokens were only used for a short period and no one could remember what happened to the tokens on hand when the business expired.

The small settlement of Sleipnir (named after the Horse of Oden) was started in 1904, close to Big Quill Lake. Mr. Halldorson built a store here in 1906 and was general merchant and postmaster. In 1907 the Canadian Pacific Railway pushed through their new rail line which was south of the settlement. Late in 1907 a siding was set up, called Wynyard, which was 3 miles south west of Sleipnir. Seeing that the rail would not be going through Sleipnir, Halldorson moved his building to the new siding in February 1908. Ten teams of oxen were used to move the building and it was the first store in Wynyard. Tokens were issued in 1909 and discontinued in 1914 when the business was sold. At one time the tokens were in plentiful supply but apparently they were mostly destroyed at the time of the sale.

Levi Beck started in 1895 with a grocery store but being quite an entrepreneur, soon started to expand and shortly had branch stores in Sheho and Willowbunch as well as a grocery, implements, harness, butcher shop, bakery, confectionery and lumber yard in Yorkton. Around 1920 he found that he had expanded too fast to consolidate his position and being unable to handle everything properly, started to sell off some of his holdings. Due to financial difficulties, so I am told, ceased operations completely in 1930. Tokens were issued around 1908 and were used until the early 1920's.

for these errors. I would appreciate it if anyone, who has any would notify me of the particulars so that this could be incl-
